Dear Ike

Bankside and Southwark Walk 11 November 2009

As the organiser of events for Design Minded, a built environment business networking group, I seek to achieve a balance between interest, value, business support and quality. I am delighted that the walk you lead for our group of twelve last night reflected those qualities perfectly and achieved my aim of stimulating conversation over our dinner that followed.

As soon as our tour started we knew we were in good hands, everyone was relaxed, the pace was just right and being guided was really enjoyable. You shared your professional knowledge in a way that was easy to follow and had our attention throughout, which on a cold November's evening is quite an achievement. Thank you. I look forward to joining you again with friends and colleagues alike.

Yours sincerely
